The It Girl by Ruth Ware

Intro: How do you feel about true-crime podcasts? Do you listen to them?

1. Why did people call April the 'it girl'?

2. After April's death, both Hannah and Will try to separate themselves as much as possible from the tragic events—even cutting off previous friendships, except for Hugh. Why did they quit talking with almost everyone from the past

3. What are your thoughts about the ending overall? Did Hannah finally receive the closure she needs?
